BONE CHINA

Connaught story

One of the most successful ranges in our rich portfolio, the Connaught collection has proved its incredible versatility since its creation over 70 years ago. A champion of the hospitality world, capable of dealing with high volume yet retaining the elegance and poise of superior bone china. This extensive range, with simple yet stylish shapes, provides the opportunity to create a traditional or contemporary feel to table settings and has made it a global best-seller.

Connaught remains a top choice for grand hotels where banquets, wedding parties and conferences demand good looks and a high-quality feel combined with reliable performance and practical aspects such as stackability, durability and anti-chip design. These same attributes make Connaught totally adaptable to the needs of large-scale convention centres and cruise ships where bone china, the strongest known ceramic body is a must.

However, Connaught items are at home in smaller settings such as meeting rooms and hotel apartments or boutique hotels. Overall, the seamless, classic lines of Connaught provide chefs with a clean, brilliant white canvas to showcase their creativity, backed by the reassuring quality and service that has allowed us to maintain our outstanding reputation and of course, our Royal Warrant to Her Majesty The Queen.

THE FUSION STORY

Fusion is a term well understood and often used by chefs, constantly seeking to create new food trends and deliciously combine different culinary traditions. In a similar way, our Fusion collection brings together its heritage and famous expertise in creating stunning bone chiana with a true understanding of the demands of the modern restaurant environment.

The Fusion range emphasis remains on providing timeless, stylish tableware that is reliably durable and allows food to be perfectly framed and presented. The plate service in varying sizes and a choice of plain white or embossed provide a generous surface to present colourful dishes, be they French, Italian or Haute Cuisine. Other shapes in the range with their striking blend of angles and soft curves have a sleek and contemporary look that perfectly suits sophisticated fine dining rooms.

FUSION EMBOSSED

Reinforcing its versatility, Fusion is specifically designed to be effortlessly layered with more expressive patterns such as Hibsicus, providing a brilliant, translucent white base for these bold blue florals is an asset of the range. This flexibility and the unrivalled quality that has earned Wedgwood its Royal Warrant to Her Majesty The Queen underlines why Fusion is a favourite of discerning chefs worldwide.

GIO

THE GIO STORY

Our increasingly visual age has created a new emphasis on 'picture perfect' food that should look as good as it tastes. For every colourful, skilfully conceived food masterpiece that a chef creates, the frame and canvas have a key part to play - enhancing the presentation yet not overshadowing the cuisine. Stylish and contemporary in timeless white, with its unique tactile finish that visually alters in different lights, Gio is intriguing but also has the durable qualities that the hospitality industry expects.

The Gio collection is instilled with our DNA through and through, from the beautiful, translucent white bone china body to the innovative and striking geometric embossed details. Although modern in spirit, Gio draws on the ancient art of 'Intaglio' where embossment is skilfully created by cutting through layers of ceramic to produce textures. This expert craftsmanship is a hallmark of our rich heritage while our outstanding product quality has earned us a Royal Warrant to Her Majesty The Queen.

GEOMETRIC TEXTURE IN TIMELESS WHITE, DESIGNED FOR ALL FORMS OF DINING AND SHARING

GIO PRODUCT CONCEPT

Gio's development came after in-depth consultations with experienced professionals in the hospitality sector, including Michelin star chefs.

The design of the collection 'for chefs, by chefs' reveals a true understanding of their priorities such as differing plate sizes, food service areas, capacities, food types and serving methods while providing a distinctive look with high-end appeal.
